"Sailor Beware" has proven itself to be one of the most profitable comedies in the history of the theatre. . . . It played in New York for a considerable stretch, toured the world and then was made into a moving picture. Recently, Paramount Pictures did a second screen version of it—known to moviegoers this time as "The Fleet's In." And according to box-office reports from coast to coast, it is one of the biggest money making films of the year. . . . Ivoryton actors are more in demand by Broadway producers than any other actors in the profession . . . the latest three to be considered for important roles in forthcoming Fall productions are Judy Parrish, Hale Norcross and Edmund Dorsay. . . . Incidentally, it was here that saw the birth of a new "Claudia." Last season, the charming and gifted writer, Rose Franken, attended a performance of "The Male Animal" which starred Buddy Ebsen, and spotted Elaine Ellis in one of the supporting parts. As a result, Miss Ellis was chosen to play the title role in a touring company of "Claudia". . . . According to Milton Stiefel, who knows talent when he sees it, Ivoryton will produce a great many fine young players this summer. Included in his group of younger actors are many who are being carefully watched by moving picture companies, talent scouts, agents and Broadway producers. . . . One of the nicest things about last week's opening attraction were the many thank you notes received by Milton Stiefel from his many patrons. They thanked him for keeping the theatre open despite the tire and gasoline shortages and they applauded his policy of keeping audiences entertained. . . .
